Dear Procurement Partner,

We appreciate your efforts to support Mercury Integrated Manufacturing, with your valued products and services. With your support, Mercury is delivering solutions that power our customers' innovations.

As a member of the Responsible Business Alliance (RBA) (formerly referred to as the EICC), Mercury is part of a group of leading manufacturing companies committed to upholding the highest standards of ethics throughout the global supply chain as outlined in the RBA Code of Conduct.

The RBA Code of Conduct establishes standards to ensure working conditions in the manufacturing supply chain are safe, workers are treated with respect and dignity, and business operations are environmentally responsible and conducted ethically.

Mercury expects suppliers to adopt and implement the RBA Code of Conduct and Mercury Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, regardless of local business practices or social customs. Mercury will also monitor your adherence to these Codes, which may include verification visits and audits.

Mercury is committed to meeting the standards in the RBA Code of Conduct consistent with our commitment to conduct business with uncompromising integrity and professionalism. Our suppliers' conformance with the RBA Code of Conduct supports this philosophy. We encourage our suppliers to consider joining the RBA if you are not already a member.

Mercury believes business should be earned through innovative technology and delivering performance, quality, and reliable service; and we appreciate your efforts in supporting the high standards of Mercury and the RBA. We are pleased to have you as a valued supplier and we look forward to our continued business relationship with you.

Thank you for your partnership, integrity and professionalism.

Sincerely,

Nicholas Rampersad
Purchasing Manager
